The Liberal and Nationalist Leaders On Same Platform In Nottingham.

PREMIER REFERS TO THE BALKAN WAR

Home Rule Is On the Eve Of Its Final Victory Says Redmond.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Nottingham, Eng., Nov. 22.—The unusual spectacle of Liberal and Nationalist leaders on the same platform at a political meeting was witnessed tonight when Premier Asquith and John Redmond addressed a great audience here on the home rule question and the premier also dealt with the war in the Balkans and other questions of the day.

Fears that there might be a suffragette outbreak during the meeting resulted in the most complete preparations ever undertaken here to preserve the peace. Almost the entire police force was on duty in the hall and its neighborhood and a large body of officers of the law was held in reserve in the basement of the building where the meeting was held.

Diplomatic Reference.

Mr. Asquith's reference to the war in southeastern Europe was very diplomatic and threw no new light on the situation. Recalling his speech at Guild Hall, in London, November 9, in which he made the statement that he believed it to be the unanimous opinion of Europe "that the victors are not to be robbed of the fruits

Anxious to Stop Bloodshed.
"We are anxious to stop further combination of blood between the combatants and even more anxious to limit the enormous field of possible conflicts. The power of working together to that end. We are satisfied that there is no deviation in what purpose in that cooperative policy of all the powers. There may be certain questions which, in the best interest of peace and ultimate stability may be possible to reserve to deal with them when the time comes for a general and definite settlement."

Pledging the Liberal party to continue its efforts for home rule, Mr. Bessborough declared that he would not be discouraged by any passing incidents which might lead to a forgotten moment, but was determined to proceed with the fight to the end.

John Redmond, in his address, said home rule was on the eve of final victory. He also declared that the

MAGRATH IN ORPHEUM

That amount of money into the pockets of the citizens of Edmonton. One hand went up in the audience when Mr. Magrath asked how many there were who were not interested in a foot of real estate in the city. He claimed that he having been a real estate man fitted him for the position of civic head, because it had been a business matter to him to know the good and bad points about the city.

The City "Museum."

"Dance shop" and "the museum at the foot of the hill" were some of the terms applied by Candidate Magrath to the city power plant. Candidate Magrath found it hard to raise enthusiasm in the meeting. Perhaps it was because the hall was cold, but the audience was certainly cold, too. An effort was made to create some warmth by the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," but the response even with the help of a piano and violin and a bass vocalist, was only half hearted.

AM. G. H. May.

AM. G. H. May followed Mr. Magrath, who left the meeting early in order to get to another meeting elsewhere. Mr. May opened by making the announcement that the city had won a victory over the G. T. P. at the selling of the railway crossing that day. In the matter of the double tracking through the city and the Kingston avenue crossing. He said the G. T. P. had been held up to their agreement which their solicitor, when before the council, had tried to repudiate, and proceeded to recount some of the incidents in his fight for a better water supply and a clearer city. He said he was seeking an amendment to the city charter which would allow the city to clean up vacant lots and to charge up the cost on the taxes of the abutters or residents, owners of such lots. He concluded:

"I am pledged to fight craft and franchise hunters; pledged to protect the city's interests against the railroads; pledged to development and progress without a spoils system; pledged to concentrate my efforts on bettering the condition of the sick, helpless, needy, and the big game hunter; pledged to fight the battle for a cleaner and healthier city. If you like any vote, vote for me. I have no party, class warfare, or intrigue behind me, but am independent, and will always vote in the council as I have determined in my best judgment and conscience dictated."

G.T.P. WILL INSTALL

"Then the idea of dotting them with a little interference possible with the city's utilities. I think the urgency of increased taxation for the city of Edmonton is admitted by everybody."

Utilities to Be Maintained.

In instructing the G. T. P. to go ahead with the construction of their new freight terminals, Commissioner Drayton said the existing public utilities on the lanes closed to traffic owing to the new yards must be maintained, and the company would have to leave them at all times accessible to the city's servants for purposes of repair. Any changes that were required to be made would be done by the city, but at the expense of the railway company.

Secondly, there was a considerable demerit from the thirty-three-foot strip, which the municipality contemplated handing over to the company as the result of the installation of these new lands in the terminal. It was therefore only a question of time before there is a real separation of the city, but either by a subway or in some other way.

City May Assume Taxes.

The company would receive the order to construct their new terminals only with the condition that no claims for damages can be made by the company as the result of the change of highway levels resulting from the subway construction or otherwise, as the result of any work which is necessary to eliminate the grade crossing at this point and in connection with the lands comprised in the new freight yards. The board asked the further condition that should the yards be abandoned in the future the municipality would forthwith have the right to assume control of the lanes as if they had not been closed.

The chairman said the board made no order as to protection at the crossing. Because they hoped to get rid of the main point of variance before the tracks were opened. Judgment was therefore reserved on the point as to whether the company should be compelled to contribute towards the cost of installing the subway.

Is It Speculation?

"This application seems to me merely for real estate purposes," said Commissioner Drayton, referring to the application of the city to open Rialto, Devault and Ninth streets south of White avenue and east of the C.P.R. as the result of the city's means of level crossings over the line of the Edmonton, Yukon and Pacific railway.

City Solicitor Brown argued that the city should not open up the territory south of the Y. and P. tracks. They already had a crossing at Eighth street.

"Why do you want to put crossings in the way of them after?" asked Chairman Drayton. "I don't understand why you wish to do it in view of the risk to the lives and the safety of your own people."

Mr. Brown stated that there might be no need for the line to be used when the C. P. R. high level bridge is opened.

C. N. R. Solicitor Clarke, on behalf of the railway, suggested that the application might be adjourned until the high level bridge was opened. He said that Chairman Drayton said the city would have to make out a very strong case if the permission of the board to the crossing were to be secured. It did not seem to be of much use to compel railways to be put in while the city was asking for a lot more level crossings.

E. D. and B. C. Application. O. M. Hagar made application on behalf of the Edmonton, Devonian and British Columbia railway for permission to make a temporary crossing for construction purposes over the C. N. R. tracks where they would be interrupted by the other company's line to the Peace River.

Engineer Mann, for the E. D. and B. C. line, said that track laying had been commenced and they would reach the proposed crossing in three or four days.

The board made the order asked for, with the proviso that the application must be a watchman at the crossing until the permanent interlocking arrangement was put in.

The city applied for an order giving them the permission to make a direct railway crossing over the C.P.R. tracks between Armstrong and Cochrane avenues on Twenty-seventh street.

Mr. Haggerty, for the G.T.P., said he was not ready to go into the matter, which was adjourned. New Crossing at Mosquito. The board gave the city permission to cross the C. N. R. track at Mosquito, where it is proposed to make a new entrance to the city park, the crossing to be maintained at the expense of the applicants.

City Commissioner Chalmers stated that the city were extending a branch line of the street car system to this point. It was not proposed to take the street car across the tracks, but simply to have a crossing so that people could reach the park at that point. The chairman pointed out that unless proper precautions were taken danger might arise to women and children going to the park, especially at holiday times.

G. T. P. Approved to Test Jumps. An application was made by Haggerty on behalf of the G. T. P. for an order opening the G. T. P. line from Pittsburgh to Tete Jaune Cache.

Chairman Drayton said that having been over the line during the last day or two, he could make the order without hesitation.

The order was then made. The board will sit again this morning to resolve the plan drawn up by the engineers of the G. T. P. and C. N. R., together with City Engineer Laird, for the double tracking of the line between the city limits where possible.

BOY MEETS TRAGIC DEATH.

Prince Albert, Nov. 22.—Almost every inch of skin bare from his body, John Garraher, 16 years old, an American, employed as a furnace tender at the King George School, rushed through the streets this evening to the house of George Wilson, with whom he boarded, crying that in his haste the furnace he had caught fire. He was rushed to Victoria Hospital where it was at once seen that he had no chance of recovery. He died at noon.

PRINCIPAL GORDON ON RELIGION IN SCHOOLS

Head of Queens University Makes a Strong Plea for Its Teaching in the Common Schools—Education and Religion Hand in Hand.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—"We have suffered much as a people from denominational divisions, and we have allowed these to prevent the teaching of religion in our schools. In the very name of religion we have crippled religion."

In these words Rev. Principal D. M. Gordon, of Queens University, before a large audience in the normal school, summarized a strong plea for religion in the common schools. Important in view of the present agitation if not the teaching of religion in the school. Dr. Gordon's address closed with much interesting comment.

It was important that some place should be found for Bible instruction in school life. The day in the school should start with the recital of the Lord's prayer, and there should be Bible reading and the memorization of passages from the Scriptures. For the education of the child, the reading there was no better example than Sir Wilfrid Laurier, with his use of Biblical quotations.

UNDESIRABLES ARE GOING TO AUSTRALIA

It is Now Charged that Poor Class of Immigrants Including Many of the Aliens Are Being Sent to the Antipodes From Britain.

Canadian Associated Press.

London, Nov. 22.—The Sydney correspondent of the Daily Mail, states that a dispatch was received from the Antipodes from Britain, that the Prime Minister Weddell alleged that numbers of undesirable were arriving, including criminals.

Dr. Arthur also said that many of the newcomers suffered from consumption and other complaints. He also alleged that many of the newcomers were sent to the Antipodes before departure. Other members emphasized the alleged weakness of many of the new arrivals, as shown by the police records. The prime minister said that his government had ceased to encourage immigration and would accept only approved, domestic and the wives and children of those already here.

SKULL OF PRE-HISTORIC MAN FOUND IN SUSSEX

Scientist Made Discoveries in Old River Bed—Remains of Skull Much Thicker Than Those of Modern Man's Head.

London, Nov. 22.—A pre-historic discovery which is likely to call forth even more discussion than the alleged prehistoric paintings in Jacson's hole, has just been made public. A scientist living in Sussex has discovered in an old river bed in the eastern inland part of the county a skull which, from its formation and place of discovery, is believed to be by far the oldest ever found in this country.

Up to this time what is known as the Ipswich skull is believed to be the oldest but it all the older claims be true the Sussex skull will prove the senior by about a thousand years. The bones are very much thicker than the skulls of modern men and, though found in fragments, it is believed that the discovery forms part of the bones of a man who lived in an antiquity so remote that no expert cares to put a figure to it.

It is claimed or it, however, that it certainly dates from the beginning of the pleistocene period, seeing that the bones were lying close to the bones of one of the most ancient types of elephant.

The skull belongs, roughly, to the same age as the famous Heidelberg skull, and resembles a neanderthal specimen, though belonging to a much earlier and more primitive type of mankind.

SOUTH AFRICAN NAVY.

Cape Town, Nov. 22.—An article of considerable interest has appeared in the Volksstem on the subject of the South African navy. In dealing with the question double is expressed as to whether South Africa can afford an increased expenditure. It is, however, argued that in the event of the payment of an increased sum being decided upon during the next session, the policy of providing a South African navy for South Africa should be followed.

The same paper considers that an expenditure of $5,000,000 per annum during a period of ten years should be agreed to and that the money should be derived partly from the abolition of imperial preference, and partly from a duty of 3 per cent. on goods imported.

BLAMES FIRE LOSSES ON INSURANCE SPECULATION

Montreal Fire Chief Issues Report on Appalling Fire Losses to Canada.

Montreal, Nov. 22.—Chief Tremblay of the Montreal fire brigade, issued a report today on the appalling fire losses in Canada as compared with the United States.

He blamed speculation in insurance, leading to arson as the chief cause for fire losses in Montreal and other Canadian cities.

In Montreal, he says, in sixty per cent. of the fires there has been over-insurance. In 40 per cent. of the cases, the fire was of malicious origin.

He declares that participation in causing an outbreak of fire should be made a crime under the statutes of Canada.

THE GANTHER FUND.

$20,000 Check From Federal Government—Montreal Society Making Contribution.

Montreal, Nov. 21.—The contribution from the federal government to the Montreal Ganthier fund was received today in the form of a check for $20,000, and to augment the fund a number of entertainments have been planned for the coming season.

The benefit is to be given by the Montreal Opera company on November 30th, when "La Tosca" will be performed. It will be under the direction of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall. On this night a special program will be carried out between the acts.

Cotton Cargo on Fire.

Halifax, Nov. 22.—The British freighter Tabaristan, of the British line, put into port this morning with fire in her hold. The Tabaristan left Wilmington, North Carolina, five days ago, with a full cargo of cotton for Liverpool and four days out from the American port it was discovered that the cotton was on fire, compelling the steamer to make for Halifax, the nearest port. The Tabaristan dropped anchor in mid-afternoon in her arrival, while her crew were still working to put out the blaze. Her captain today reported the fire under control.

Chicago Pressmen Excluded.

Rochester, Nov. 21.—At the afternoon session of the American Federation of Labor, the question of excluding the Chicago pressmen, who are on strike, came up. The committee of adjustment, to which a resolution had been referred, favored sending representatives of the executive council of the Federation to Chicago to attempt an adjustment of the differences. An amendment providing federation backing for the pressmen, if conciliation measures failed, was defeated and the committee's report was adopted.

Will Issue Reports in New York.

New York, Nov. 22.—The Tribune this morning says: Official information is that Grady will issue regular quarterly reports here. Net profits for the four months ended October 31st, averaged $140,000 as shown as shown in the first quarterly statement of the company. A 2,000 ton smelter and power plant has been authorized by the board of directors to be completed as soon as 1913 as possible. The total expenditures for all improvements will be about $2,000,000.

No Offer From Manitoba.

Minneapolis, Nov. 21.—Dr. Frank Westbrock, dean of the medical faculty, University of Minnesota, and graduate of the Manitoba university, said today he had not had an offer of the presidency of the University of Manitoba.
